Contracts Let for New 16-Room Grade School To Replace Oakland

Total Cost $385,000 Permits Nine Rooms Completed; Rest a Shell

Contracts were let yesterday on the construction of the new 16-room school building for Grade School District 34 at Loon Lake and Deep Lake roads.

The general contract was awarded to Roy Nordstrom of Fox Lake who recently completed the grade school building at Fox Lake and the addition to the Warren Township High School building.

Heating and ventilating will be done by Standard Engineers of Waukegan, and the electrical and plumbing contracts were awarded to Carey Electric Co. of Antioch.

President Norman Jedele estimated that the total cost will approach $385,000. The exact figures will be known at the time of the signing of the contracts next week.

President Norman Jedele said that the board feels it is getting more than it at first planned. The original goal for 1958 was eight rooms completed and a shell provided for eight additional rooms.

"We'll not only get an additional room for a total of nine rooms completed, including cafeteria and office, but will get heating equipment for the unfinished part," Jedele said.

The total also provides for the architect's fee, and furnishing of the nine rooms.

The district had voted $394,000 worth of bonds, so there will be money left to pay toward the finishing of the eight rooms when they are needed.

The contractors will meet with the architect, Gilbert Johnson of Rockford next week to reach final agreements and sign the contracts.

James Dupre, 12, Hurt In Motor-Scooter Crash With Cunningham Truck

James Dupre, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Dupre of 664 N. Main st., suffered a fracture and lengthy lacerations of his right leg a week ago Wednesday night when the motor-scooter on which he was riding with Craig Nelson crashed into a rear fender of the mosquito fog truck of Murrill Cunningham on West Orchard st.

After being given treatment by Dr. Alan L. Thain James was taken to St. Theresa hospital. It took three hours for the physicians to close the long wound down his leg. The following day x-ray pictures showed that one of the bones had a green-stick fracture.

Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Nelson, was not slightly hurt. Fog from the spraying may have combined with the dusk at 9 p. m. to partly obscure the boys' vision of the truck, the Dupre family believes.

Police Chief Walter I. Scott said he couldn't account for the accident, although he questioned the boys. The boys were going east at the near the residence of Dr. A. N. Berke, 365 Orchard st.

Attends Boys State
Frank Ferdon, Antioch High School student residing at Lake Villa, has returned from Boys State, the mythical state conducted by the American Legion at the State Fair grounds in Springfield. Ferdon was elected alderman of the mythical city and served in that capacity during the week, earning the duties of that and other offices. He was sent to Boys State under sponsorship of the Antioch Post, American Legion.

Weather Good for Crops Wheat, Oats Ripening

Warm weather, clear skies, and much humidity at times during the past week have been good for corn and other crops which had been a week or two weeks late. Only a small amount of corn was "knee high by the Fourth of July." Wheat is ripening and oats turning. Gardens are in good condition.

Man and Wife Drown In Petite Lake Channel When Boat Overturns

Guest of Chicago Couple Was Driver of Boat; Saves Self; Not Them

The Antioch Rescue squad on Tuesday recovered the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Seamon Hamilton, 33, of 100 N. Roy, Northlake, Ill., from the waters of Petite lake in which they drowned at 6:45 p. m. Sunday.

The drowning occurred when the wash from another boat overturned the Hamilton boat in the channel area between Fox Lake and Petite lake.

Raymond A. Kohs, 47, of 8030 S. Normal, Chicago, told sheriff's police, he was with the Hamiltons when the accident occurred. He said he was invited by Mr. Hamilton, a fellow employee at the Phoenix Metal Cap Co., Chicago, to go for a ride in the 14-foot outboard motorboat.

On the return trip Kohs took the wheel and as the boat passed through the channel, a large boat passing some distance away set up a wash that overturned the Hamilton craft.

Although he was a feeble swimmer, Kohs managed to pull Hamilton partly onto the overturned boat. Then Mrs. Hamilton came to the surface and her husband in trying to rescue her, lost his hold on the boat and both sank.

Kohs swam 800 feet to Nolan's Cypress resort and obtained help. Another boat pulled the Hamilton boat to shore.

The Antioch Rescue squad dragged the lake until nearly midnight without success. The water was too rough Monday to do any (continued on page 8)

Chicken Dinner Sunday; Scout House Benefit

All that remains now is suitable weather to make the third annual chicken barbecue at the Grass Lake school a success Sunday.

When the dinner was served the first year 600 persons attended it; last year the number was increased to 800 and this year a goal of 1,000 is set.

As the event has become annual, the sponsoring group has begun to collect its own equipment which includes 15 to 20 picnic tables.

The Scout Home group will use the profit to heat the Scout Home and provide other needs.

The Grass Lake scouts have completed their candy bar sale which gave them enough money to sink a new well on the 17-acre camp site at the rear of the school.

Hospital Fund Increases
Solicitors for donations to the Burlington Memorial Hospital Building fund will meet tomorrow evening in reporting the total pledges to date. At the last report $322,386 had been contributed, which represents 56 per cent of the goal of $575,000.

Sunday, Aug. 4 Set as Aqua Center Day; Robert Montour Will Be Chief Demonstrator

Sunday, Aug. 4 has been set as Aqua Center Day during which special exhibitions will be conducted during a 1½ hour program at the pool in Williams Park.

Robert Montour, director of first aid and water safety, for the Lake County Red Cross Society, will be present to demonstrate safety methods. One of his exhibits will be a lesson in safety in operating a boat and what to do if the boat overturns.

Progress of the various pupils in learning to swim will be demonstrated, and it is expected that by that time a group will be ready to demonstrate synchronized swimming.

It will be Achievement Day for many of the persons who have taken special training in life saving methods.

"We are planning to use local talent as much as possible in our demonstrations," said Supt. Warren Polley.

Polley announced that if there are enough persons interested in the course, a class in diving will be formed and lessons will start next week. The class would meet at 9 a. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Mrs. Donald Francisco who formerly taught diving at the Y.M.C.A. pool in Waukegan will be the instructor.

Lions Plan Carnival At Business Meeting

Plans for the carnival it will conduct August 7 to 11 were discussed Monday evening by the Lions club at its dinner meeting at Smart's Country House.

Thirty-seven members attended the dinner-business session and heard Chairman Roman Vos announce that Theaboldt Enterprises of Chicago will supply five rides.

As a part of the program President James Kopriva showed pictures of fishing adventures of local members in Canada. Dr. Kopriva did not preside, but Vice President Albert Dittman continued to substitute for him and announced that there would be an outing at the Aqua Center in August.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tiffany and children, Peter, David and Sue of Geneseo, Ill., spent the holidays in Antioch with Mrs. B. R. Burke and other relatives.

Lake County Fair Only Two Weeks Distant; Premium Books Ready

The 29th Annual Lake County Fair and 4-H Club show will be held July 25-28 according to Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Farm Adviser. This will mark the second year that the fair is being held on the new Fair Grounds located at the intersections of rtes. 45 and 120 east of Grayslake.

All indications point to an even larger fair than last year, which was considered the biggest fair ever held in Lake county.

The board of directors, headed by E. E. Elsbury, president, of Gurnee, has added several new facilities for the pleasure and convenience of visitors and exhibitors. In addition to the two permanent livestock buildings erected last year, a huge building with more than 20,000 square feet of floor space and another with around 6,000 square feet of floor space will be available this year.

Besides the two new buildings, modern washroom facilities, additional parking areas, more extensive lighting, and better roads have been provided on the fair grounds.

The Lake County Fair and 4-H Club Show which in the past years has been identified with Antioch, Libertyville, and Wauconda, has developed into one of the outstanding expositions in northern Illinois. Visitors and exhibitors come from many adjoining counties as well as the home County of Lake.

No matter what one's interests or hobbies are, he will find something of interest at the Lake County Fair. In addition to the thousands of exhibits by farmers, home-makers, hobbyists, and 4-H Club members, there will be outstanding entertainment including a 4-H and (continued on page 5)

850 Antioch Twp. Delinquent Taxpayers Will Get Summonses

Average Personal Debt $20; Total $17,000 Due the Township

A list of approximately 850 delinquent taxpayers was given to Justice of the Peace Herbert J. Litchfield for collection in Antioch township by the Lake county treasurer, Guy O. Lunn.

Judge Litchfield will begin at once to issue summonses and they will be served as rapidly as the five constables can deliver them in their spare time from their regular jobs.

One of the five may get his own, which he has protested.

"There were four or five bills for more than $100," Judge Litchfield told the Antioch News. "Most of them will average around $20."

On this basis the township stands to collect $17,000.

Persons who pay their delinquent personal tax now to Judge Litchfield must also pay the penalty and his fee. If the summonses are not answered, Judge Litchfield will issue a judgment in default and this will be turned over to the state's attorney, Thomas Moran for execution.

Judge Litchfield said he would not turn in any judgments until the summonses have all been delivered and then he will do it all at once.

"It's a big task to serve 850 summonses," said Litchfield, "and the process of making that many collections will take some time."

In Avon township, a village mayor, village police, and other employees were among the 1,000 delinquent taxpayers.

Persons cannot be certified for public office if they have not paid their taxes.

Two Thousand Witness Dedication of Addition To St. Benedict Abbey

An estimated 1,000 persons dined at the St. Benedictine Seminary Thursday, July 4 and many more joined them at the dedication of the new $1,000,000 wing of St. Benedict Abbey.

The dedication took place during mass at 10:30 a. m. following which the doors of the new addition were opened so that the public might inspect it.

Bishop John Paschang of Grand Island, Neb., a boyhood friend of the Rt. Rev. Richard Felix, Abbot in charge, gave the dedication sermon.

Present for the service were Clifton Noonan, Wilmette, the architect, and Tonyan brothers, who were the contractors.

Next goal of Abbot Richard is the construction of the abbey proper. One of the attractions to visitors was the Holy Land shrine display. Twelve shrines were of the Old Testament and 12 of the New Testament.

Where Discipline Is Needed

Puppies invariably make a mess of homes—until they are sternly disciplined and taught to be clean and decent members of the family.

One wishes that a similar discipline could be imposed on the "litterbugs" and "clutterflies" who strew discarded paper, beer cans, empty bottles and all manner of other rubbish and dirt along the highways, in recreation areas, and in beauty spots throughout the nation.

The litterbugs have the crude manners of untrained puppies—without any of the puppies' excuses.

The Prime Justification

"Can you imagine, being born a citizen of one nation—becoming a naturalized citizen of another, and then forming a Swiss corporation to purchase a French-built ship in order to operate her under the Liberian flag—with a German licensed and an Oriental unlicensed crew?" That fantastic little picture was drawn by a spokesman for the American merchant marine. He added that he was not being facetious—for such a ship actually exists, and it is a very new one.

This illustrates a problem the U. S.-flag merchant marine always faces. It must compete for trade with other merchant marines operating under laws, conditions and standards which are often vastly different from our own. And it indicates why our government provides American lines operating over strategic world trade routes with operating-differential payments, designed to help offset the great cost differences that exist between our ships and those of other leading maritime nations.

One reason for these payments is the obvious fact that a U. S.-flag merchant marine is necessary to the national defense—we learned that the hard way in two wars, when we were forced to embark on enormously wasteful and expensive cash programs of ship construction, because our merchant fleets had been allowed to languish in peace time. But it is not the only reason. The same spokesman said of our merchant marine "... that its commercial role is and will continue to be its prime justification. . . . Our economy is geared to a high volume of foreign trade and our prosperity is in substantial measure dependent on that trade. Under these circumstances, we would be foolish indeed to depend on the fleets of other countries.

Two New Items

Two items that can profitably be considered together recently appeared in the news. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said: "The choice is whether the peaceful uses of atomic energy are to be developed in the framework of the competitive economic system—and thus benefit from the rapid expansion and cost-cutting incentives . . . or whether the atomic energy industry is to lapse back into the embrace of government, with all that is entailed in so doing. . . . Government and industry must work hand-in-hand. . . ."

Donald S. Kennedy of the Edison Electric Institute reported that electric utilities are pursuing atomic power research and development in ever greater numbers. Eighty companies, he went on, are involved in 14 nuclear reactor projects and one thermonuclear research project. Together, it is expected that the projects will have an electric generating capacity of 1.5 million kilowatts and will cost more than $500 million.

Government monopoly or near-monopoly of atomic development of peacetime purposes could be justified only under one condition—that private enterprise is either unable or unwilling to participate on the necessary scale. But now private enterprise is demonstrating, through concrete action, that it is both willing and able, and that it is determined to give this country the maximum benefits at the minimum cost. It is thus living up fully to the confidence in it that has been expressed by Admiral Strauss and many other authorities.

A Temporary Problem

Early in the 19th century, the British economist Malthus published his famous "Essay on Population." It developed what became known as the Malthusian theory, which held that world population would outgrow the world's food supply, with consequent famine and starvation. In the light of the scientific knowledge and farming practices of that era, this theory seemed as sound as it was somber.

But since then there have been revolutionary changes in the arts of agriculture. Such innovations as better seeds and fertilizers and, above all, mechanization which gives one man the productive power that it took many men to provide in other days, have created a situation which would have seemed unbelievable to Malthus. As the Portland Oregonian puts it, "Technology is minimizing the threat of eventual starvation which has concerned many ever since Malthus expounded his gloomy theory."

That paper makes another point of top importance. The farmer's new tools and techniques have helped to bring about the agricultural surplus problem, and it is a vexing problem indeed. "This," says the Oregonian, "may be extremely discouraging to those who seek to control production, but in the long-range view it is encouraging to humanity generally." Population in this country and the world is soaring. Our own acreage of farm land is virtually fixed. So there is every reason to believe that the surplus is a temporary phenomenon, and that in years to come we will need all the productive power our farmers can summon to satisfy the appetites of ourselves and of others.

The future of mechanized agriculture—and of the efficient family-size farm which mechanization has done so much to strengthen—is bright.

Crossbreeding of Hogs Pays Off

Since an estimated 85 to 90 per cent of hogs reaching principal markets are crossbreds, it's no longer a question of whether a farmer is going to produce crossbreds but rather how he can do it to get the greatest benefits.

Results of three years of Iowa State College tests indicate you can reap extra dividends by launching a systematic program of crossbreeding.

The experiments showed these crossbred advantages: 8.6 per cent advantage in survival rate, 8.9 per cent in growth rate, and two per cent in feed efficiency. The crossbreds were intermediate between the parental breeds in carcass quality and meatiness.

Main disadvantages, the article says, of a crossbreeding program is the lack of conformity that can occur for some qualities in second and later crosses. This, however, is usually offset by over-all advantages gained in an intelligent program.

If you want to develop a good crossbreeding program on your farm, here's the starting point: First, consider the sow herd. You can start with either pure breeds of stock or crossbred sows already on the farm. Use a critical eye, and records if you have them. Decide what things are needed most—meatiness, length, improved litter size, or better rate of gain.

Choose a boar for the first cross whose inheritance is strong for the qualities needed in your sow herd and a breed likely to give you maximum response. Breeds vary in their crossing ability. Follow with another boar to add other desired characteristics.

Systematic crossbreeding with three or four breeds of sows used continuously on crossbred sows keeps vigor and performance at a high level so long as good boars are used. There is no tendency for the crossbreds to "run out." When you find three or four breeds which fit your needs and satisfy your requirements for market hogs, they can be used in a rotation system, changing the breed of boar when the crossbred sows are replaced by their daughters.

If the herd is healthy and care has been used in selecting replacement stock, home-raised crossbred gilts are generally a better risk than purchased female stock.

These factors plus good feeding and management can mean greater profits for you.

Tornadoes Get Much Publicity Recently

The record number of tornadoes in recent months brings this type of catastrophe within the realm of motoring problems, says Curtis F. Proud, director of the Chicago Motor Club's Touring and Travel Bureau. Your chances of encountering a tornado while driving through twister country are slight, but the possibility exists while these storms grow more frequent.

If the weather is ominous, keep your car radio tuned for storm warnings.

"Tornado winds travel at terrific speed—as high as 500 miles per hour—but in a circular motion," Proud said. "Their forward speed is only 25 to 40 miles per hour, so you have a chance to outrun them when you see their black funnel shapes approaching."

A tornado's usual width of damage is about 400 yards, but some have been known to cut a swath a mile wide. "In open country," said Proud, "if there is no chance to get out of the tornado's course, abandon your car, get well away from it and lie face down on the ground. A ditch, culvert or steel or concrete bridge offers extra protection."

Be alert to the possibility of tornado weather if you encounter hot sticky weather with southerly winds and a threatening sky. March through August are the worst tornado months. If you see a dark, funnel-shaped cloud spinning close to the earth, you'll know it's time to take evasive action.

Audrey Case Is Bride Of Charles Worswick

A double ring wedding ceremony was performed Saturday, July 6, at 3 o'clock by the Reverend Edmond Hood at St. Ignatius' Episcopal church. The couple joined in matrimony were Miss Audrey Ruth Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Case, Channel Lake, and Charles W. Worswick, son of Mrs. Ann Worswick of Holiday Hills, McHenry. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Case wore a sheer organza gown with a flounce Venice edge, scoop neck, and a chapel length train. Her finger tip veil was caught up in a crown of pearl petals and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Sandra Keulman, wore a powder blue ballerina-length nylon sheer accorcion pleated gown adorned by a royal blue cummerbund. A shoulder length veil of royal blue nylon net was held in place by a halo of pearls. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations and daisies.

Miss Case's bridesmaids, Colette Beckman, Elaine Lindquist, Nancy Weber, and Donna Marcussen wore gowns similar to that of the maid of honor. Their shoulder length veils were of powder blue nylon net. They carried yellow carnations and blue daisies.

Jack Worswick was best man and Bruce Worswick, Robert Zimmerman, Frank Sobal and Leonard Case, Jr. served as ushers.

Special music was provided by Ronald Peters who sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Deborah Van Patten.

Pink accessories graced the beige lace sheath gown worn by the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother wore a gown of powder blue highlighted by white accessories.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the VFW hall after which the couple left on a two week wedding trip to Canada and the Black Hills. They will make their home at Channel Lake.

Worswick is employed at the International Harvester company and his bride is the assistant supervisor in the advertising department at Abbott's Laboratories.

Right to Work

The late Chief Justice Hughes said: "It requires no argument to show that the right to work for a living in the common occupations of the community is of the very essence of the personal freedom and opportunity that it was the purpose of the (Fourteenth) Amendment to secure." Associate Justice Douglas said: "The right to work, I had assumed, was the most precious liberty that man possesses. . . . To work means to eat. It also means to live."

And, behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last. —(St. Luke 13, 30.)

There are always among us the "firsts" in all fields of activity, and it is traditional that we honor their material success and achievement. But, in God's sight, the "firsts" among us may be the meekest, the lowliest, the most humble of people—for they put Him first, and love Him.

Gardening Days Are Salad Days

If you're a home gardener, surely nothing's more satisfying than being able to enjoy the products of your green thumb. Gather in the "fixings" for a crisp, cool salad bowl, and you'll be well rewarded for your gardening efforts.

Fill a basket with your choicest garden lettuce, vine-ripened tomatoes, cucumbers, scallions and radishes. Wash and chill these garden treasures, then toss together lightly with a perfectly seasoned dressing.

One of our favorites is the Tomato Soup Dressing, given below. It has a tantalizing flavor that lends real zest and sparkle to garden-fresh salads. This dressing is easy on the calories, too, for it's made with the non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than with sugar. Simply by the use of this sweetener, calories have been slashed from 45 calories to just 28 calories per tablespoonful. Best part is, you just can't taste the difference. For, without adding a single calorie, this sweetener gives cooked and baked foods a naturally sweet, sugar-like flavor.

Whether you're weight-watching or not, we think you'll enjoy this sweet yet tangy dressing:

TOMATO SOUP DRESSING (Low-Calorie)

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------|
| ½ cup salad oil | 2 teaspoons Sucaryl solution |
| 1 cup vinegar | or 16 tablets, crushed |
| 1 can (10½ ounces) tomato soup | 2 tablespoons chopped onion |
| | ½ teaspoon garlic salt |

Combine all ingredients and blend well.

Makes 2½ cups or 44 tablespoons. Each tablespoon contains 28 CALORIES; 0.1 gram protein; 2.6 grams fat; 1.1 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each tablespoon would contain 45 CALORIES.

Cold Cuts Cater to Summer Menus

Who could get through a sizzling summer without the help of cold cuts? There are more than a hundred to choose from, such as the cervelat, salami, souse, tongue, ham, bologna and liver sausage in the picture. So good to choose from for sandwiches or for serving with traditional potato salad. And no fussing over a hot stove when cold cuts serve as the main dish. Like the meats you cook at home, cold cuts have complete high quality protein that is the mainstay of a meal. They are nourishing and attractive, and good appetite coaxers in hot weather.

For a quick and cooling snack or summer meal, an assortment of cold cuts makes it easy to cater to everyone's fancy. And plan to add some new cold cuts to your repertoire. Try some of the sausage group you may not have had before such as Thüringer or Goteborg. You'll like new "shapes" in sausage, too, such as liver sausage in loaf form rather than the familiar round sausage. The loaf form makes just the right shape slices for sandwiches.

Perk up menus too with some of the meat loaves that vary from one section of the country to another, and are so delicious in every form. There are many different kinds of salami that you will find worth trying, including the famous Genoa salami which is air-dried and made with pork. Pepperoni is an air-dried sausage without garlic which is also popular.

Going Abroad?

If you're planning to spend your vacation this year in a foreign country—or several of them—the chances are good that you are the envy of your non-traveling friends. And they're right, for going abroad can be a great adventure.

You may also have been the target of dire warnings about the health problems you will encounter. Some of these are non-sense, but it's a good idea to know exactly what health problems you are likely to encounter, and how to deal with them.

One authoritative source is Henry Milo's The Traveler's Health Handbook, an attractive, illustrated 16-page booklet that covers everything from seasickness to shots. Among other things, Milo discusses proper wardrobe, drinking water, altitude, allergies, tired feet, how to cope with hot weather, and insect bites. It is quick and easy reading, and it takes up so little space that you can keep it handy for ready reference no matter where you go.

The booklet can't be bought, but you can have it for the price of a post card. It is distributed as a public service by a large pharmaceutical company. Just write to Dept. C, Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., 630 Flushing Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Local Colt Arms Dealer

Gibbs & Jensen, Antioch, has been selected as a registered Colt dealer by Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company, of Hartford, Conn., according to an announcement made today by Fred A. Roff, Jr., vice president of the gun manufacturing firm.

A large crowd witnessed the fireworks display in Antioch July 4, and heard a fine concert by the Bristol band before the exhibit.

The display was fired without accident and the traffic was handled without much difficulty by the Antioch firemen and policemen, both regular and auxiliary.

The Antioch Rescue Squad stood by for emergency and was not needed.

The exhibition was at Sequoit Acres east of the Soo Line tracks.

Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen said the fireworks display next year will depend on whether the business men collect the fund for the fireworks. He said the firemen lack the time to collect the money, but will be glad to attend to arranging the display and supervising it.

Lake Villa had a nice fireworks display at Lehmann Park July 4. The crowd was the largest in the history of the annual event. Again the crippled children from the Peacock camp had front seats in witnessing the display.

Fox Lake again was unfortunate. Just as the shooting of the fireworks got under way at the Legion grounds, sparks fell beneath a canvas-covered supply of bombs, setting them off prematurely. The canvas kept the bombs from reaching the spectators, but panic ensued and several were hurt as they fell on the gravel driveways.

At Lake Bluff, a portion of the final display of fireworks shot into the crowd, burning two or three persons, but not critically.

HEALTH TALK

GOOD SLEEPING HABITS

"Oh! for a good night's sleep!" How often have you heard the remark and, indeed, made it yourself? Why? Because you arose from bed feeling tired, restless, and full of tension, and feeling too, perhaps, you hadn't had any rest at all. How much sleep should you have? It varies in individuals, but an average of eight hours is a good yardstick, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society points out in Health Talk.

What is sleep? The dictionary defines it as that period of rest for the body and mind, during which volition and consciousness are in partial or complete abeyance and the bodily functions partially suspended.

While the required hours of sleep vary in individuals, the rest is essential to good health. Some persons fare very well on a few hours of sleep, while others require more than the average eight. The type of sleep also plays a role in the amount of rest. A restless sleep, interrupted frequently by fitful periods of waking, is not conducive to good repair of body tissues. A good, sound sleep provides complete recovery from previous fatigue. Less than the conventional seven or eight hours of sleep proves, in most cases, wearing. The result is not only a haggard face but a strained disposition. There are many persons who, otherwise normal, believe they require more hours of sleep, anywhere from ten to twelve hours. As a rule, the healthy person who wants an unusual amount of sleep is not suffering from mental exhaustion, but from lack of exercise and sluggish digestion. In fact there are some authorities who believe that oversleeping is just as bad as overeating.

Since sleep is essential to good health, giving the body opportunity to rest emotionally and physically, every effort should be made to induce body-building hours of slumber. Good sleeping habits should be established. Freeing the mind of all care and worry is one step. Problems cannot be solved by restless thrashing about in bed. A mind, refreshed by a quiet sleep can cope with the exigencies of everyday life with more logical application.

Room temperature is important in sleep. A temperature that is too warm or too cold for the individual can be an obstacle. Fresh air is important, but this does not mean that the sleeping room should be exposed to cold blasts of winter temperatures. Bed clothing should be comfortable as should sleeping apparel. The type of sleeping garment is an individual matter. Some persons like pajamas, for example, while others prefer to sleep "raw." Sleep inducers should be avoided.

These are but crutches for a normal pattern of sleep. Many sleeping pills and powders, unless taken definitely under medical supervision, are habit-forming. The users depend on the sleep inducer for rest instead of seeking medical aid to free them of their insomnia.

Help yourself to a good night's sleep by training yourself to good sleeping habits. Then you can wonder tomorrow why you were so worried today.

Insects and Disease Destroy More Trees Than Forest Fires

Diseases, animals, insects and other natural forest enemies destroy nearly 29 times as much live timber in Illinois forests each year as is lost through forest fires, A. C. Foley, chairman of the Illinois Forest Industries Committee, said today.

Foley said the state's annual loss of live sawtimber to disease and other natural forest enemies runs around 57 million board feet, while annual loss to fire is another 2 million board feet, making a total yearly mortality loss of 59 million board feet. This lost sawtimber would have provided sufficient lumber to build 5,000 five-room frame houses, the industry man said.

For the United States as a whole, the toll taken by insects, diseases, and other natural causes have been mounting over the past few years until today nearly 12 billion board feet of live sawtimber is damaged annually.

The first coordinated attack on this insect-disease problem came in 1947, Foley pointed out, when Congress with strong urging by forest industries passed the Forest Pest Control Act under which private woodland owners pool their money with state and federal governments in joint efforts to control tree-killing insects and diseases.

Industry foresters and government agencies are currently making attacks on the Dutch elm and oak wilt diseases that have hit hardwoods in Illinois, the industry chairman said.

Public Service Co. To Seek Higher Rate Before I. C. C. Soon

Higher money costs and rising prices require that Commonwealth Edison Company increase its rates, Willis Gale, Edison chairman, announced today. He said that new rate schedules, providing increases for substantially all classes of customers, will be filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission later this month.

Details of the proposed rate revisions have not yet been determined, either as to total amount of the increase or effect on various classes of customers. The increases are planned for both Commonwealth and its Public Service Company Division.

"The board of directors of Commonwealth Edison met today and after reviewing projected revenues, expenses and earnings, reluctantly concluded to file for the increase," said Mr. Gale.

"It is significant that Commonwealth, in its 70 year history, has had only one general rate increase—in 1954. In the Public Service area rate increases were granted also during the inflationary period of 1918-20. On the other hand, there have been 26 rate reductions in Chicago and 37 rate reductions in the Public Service area."

dragging and by Tuesday the bodies came to the surface.

The water at the channel is 17 feet deep.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were taken to Chicago for burial.

Theirs was the seventh and eighth drownings in Lake county so far this year.

Although many people were at the lakes over July 4, there were no other accidents of consequence and the Rescue Squad had no calls.

On Sunday and Monday there were several calls. Besides the drowning the first aid men were called to the J. F. Woolner home at Channel Lake to give oxygen to a baby who had convulsions and to the A and J Food Store where a woman fainted.

Leonard Roblin and Police Chief Walter Scott gave first aid to a man who received a bad cut in his arm when he was struck by a beer bottle thrown from a passing car in front of Smart's Country House.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

The foreman of a logging camp where 100 men and two women were employed was inclined to write lengthy reports.

"Pat, I'm a busy man," said the manager. "I haven't time to read long reports. Boil 'em down. Give me the facts in percentages."

In the next report appeared the following item: "Last month one per cent of the men married fifty per cent of the women."

How many dollars can trees grow? Well, sir, that's a mighty fine question I get asked a lot. Got some figures here that'll maybe help a little.

Take one acre of fully stocked Southern pine on a good site and under real good management. Say you plant year-old seedlings. And say you're gonna cut for continuous growth—in other words you're going to thin only.

At the end of 12 years you can cut about five cords of pulpwood when trees are 6" in diameter—worth $20 at $4 a cord. That about covers management costs and interest up to that time.

From then on at five-year intervals you can cut seven cords of pulpwood worth $28; 1,100 board-feet of lumber worth $44 at $40 per thousand board-feet; 2,300 board-feet for $120; up to a maximum of 4,400 board-feet worth $176, 47 years after planting.

This means that the owner of one acre of mature, well-managed Southern pine can cut $32.50 worth of timber every year, or $176 worth every five years.

Children's Wading Pool at Aqua Center a Popular Place Also

Young children unable to swim find much enjoyment in the wading pool adjoining the large pool at Aqua Center in Williams Park. Parents sit along the edge of the pool and visit while they watch their children play in complete safety. Water from this pool is emptied each day and is not refilled like the water in the larger pool.

"Readin', 'Ritin', 'Rithmetic and Rockets"

Two curious space travelers of the future consult with authentically dressed rocket ship explorers on the Outer Space set where Sugar Jets Cereal films its educational TV commercials.

The newest and most unique television commercials being shown on the air waves today are seen by millions of children on TV's MICKEY MOUSE CLUB.

Aware of the great interest in space travel as well as the advent of the International Geophysical Year beginning July 1st, Sugar Jets cereal devotes more than half of their commercial time exploring the wonders of the universe with no mention of the product.

Although aimed primarily at children, their overall worth is considered by experts in the field to be well over the average "12 year-old mentality".

Factual settings show objects floating aimlessly in space as the rocket ship soars and the pull of gravity becomes nonexistent. Only authentic facts about outer space are used with no exaggeration for the sake of the spectacular.

This informative research was conducted by several leading scientific authorities in the space field. These included author and pioneer rocket developer, Willy Ley; Dr. Joseph Kaplan, Chief of the United States' participation in the International Geophysical Year; and Chesley Bonestell, noted artist of space subjects.

John Sternig, a brilliant elementary school teacher in a suburb just outside the Chicago loop also contributed much assistance toward the project. Sternig is gravely concerned with the importance of astronomy to the younger generation. "Space travel," he says, "is sure to come in this century. The Columbus of 1992 is already born."

New Mystery Dessert With Fresh Peaches

Is it a pie? Or is it a cobbler? It's actually a cobbler but the dough for the topping is rolled into a slender rope and cut into balls. These are arranged, piece-of-pie fashion on the heated, sugared peaches and baked. No trick at all to do!

FRESH PEACH COBBLER PIE

Fill a 10-inch pie pan about three fourths full of sliced and sugared ripe peaches. Dot with butter or margarine and place in hot oven (400°F.) to heat through. Lay a piece of foil over the peaches so they won't dry out on top. While peaches are heating, mix a rich dough as for shortcake. Stir together:

- 1-½ cups packaged biscuit mix
- 1-½ tbsps. C and H pure cane granulated sugar
- ½ cup light cream

Knead soft dough gently a few seconds on floured board until smooth. You may need to add a little more cream. Then, with floured hands, roll quickly into a rope 1-inch thick. Cut off inch pieces and shape into biscuit balls.

Remove foil from hot peaches. Over fruit arrange balls of dough in triangular groups, 6 each, to suggest pieces of pie. Brush with melted butter. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) about 20 mins. or until biscuit balls are done underneath and nicely browned. Sprinkle granulated sugar over biscuits to make them sparkle. Serve warm, with cream or whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Hoodlums Attack Police Making Arrests July 4 At Sherwood Park, L. V.

Two Lake County deputy sheriffs, William Woods and Joseph Cvic were beaten by hoodlums when they attempted to make an arrest at Sherwood Park, Lake Villa July 4.

Two of an estimated gang of 17 were charged with disorderly conduct and assault and battery. They are John D. Rankin, 20, of 481 Main st., and Gilbert A. Cokinis, 20 of 577 Fairview ave., both of Glen Ellyn.

The deputies answered a call from park officials who said a gang of 'toughs were drinking beer and annoying women, and flouting orders to leave.

Lake Villa Police Officer Don Cremin took two of the young men to the park office. There Lake Villa Police Chief Kenneth Barnstable took the identification papers of the two and turned to telephone for a squad car. One of them grabbed the papers and the other began to fight Cvic.

Three more attempted to enter the office and Woods attempted to hold them off. Then others of the gang joined the fray and Woods was hit over the head with a beer bottle and knocked down. He was kicked and beaten.

Cvic was knocked down with a bucket and an attempt was made by one man to spear him with an umbrella stick.

Bystanders went to the aid of the police and subdued the hoodlums who later got away when Deputy Leonard Hink and Cremin put Rankin and Cokinis in the squad car and took them to jail.

When the squad car stopped at the gate, Rankin and Cokinis attempted to leap from the car, cursing Woods, and trying to attack him again. They were restrained.

MORE INSIDE...

The Big M is the roomiest car in its field. To match the Monterey's hip room alone in any other car would cost you at least $1,000 more. And behind the wheel, you can command Mercury exclusives like a power seat that "remembers" your favorite driving position, and advanced Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control.

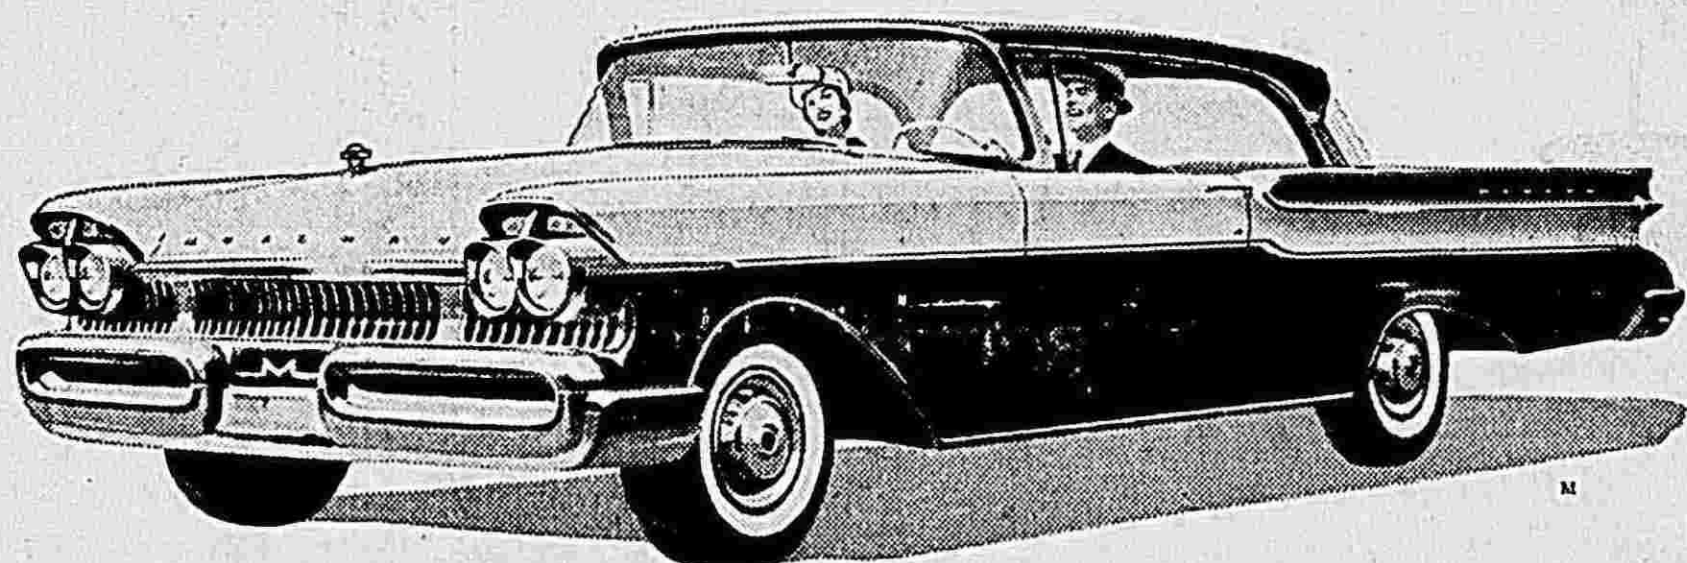

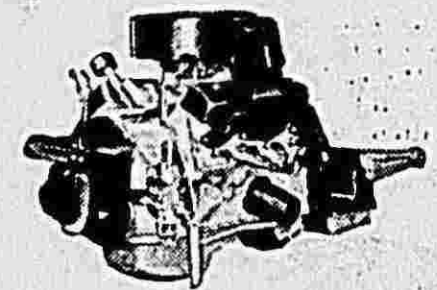

MORE OUTSIDE...

The Big M is the widest car in its field. To match Mercury's width, you'd have to buy one of America's three most expensive cars, costing at least $2,000 more. And Mercury's Dream-Car Design is shared with no other car... from Jet-Flo Bumpers to V-angle tail-lights, it's styled to stay newer longer, protect future resale value.

MORE UNDER THE HOOD...

No other car at the Monterey's price gives you such high standard horsepower (255). To match this power in any competitive car, you'd have to pay over $150 more. The Big M gives you the highest torque, for a regular production engine, in its field (405 lb-ft). Mercury's standard compression (9.75 to 1), close to highest in any car, would cost you over $500 more in any other car.

...MORE WAYS YOUR BEST BUY

You have to pay over $200 more to get any other car with real four-beam headlamps, like The Big M's Quadri-Beams. Over $80 more to get a four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on any competitive car. Over $130 more to match the Mercury Monterey's brake size. No other car at any price can match The Big M's Floating Ride—achieved with the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road. Yet the price is still an easy step up from the low-price three. Stop in!

The price comparisons stated are based on factory-suggested retail delivered prices.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. William Bordegon, chairman, Mrs. Don Anderson, Mrs. Sam Loblillo, Joan Farman, Mrs. Florence Farman and Mrs. J. Selzer. Mrs. Mary Cepen is social chairman for this year. At this meeting Mrs. Fran Gallagher announced we will have a bake sale after all the masses on July 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Swoboda and daughter, Bonnie, have spent their vacation visiting their families in Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. John Selzer received word that although the tornado of July 4th struck her parents' home in Lake City, Iowa, neither one was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shirk became the proud parents of a son born July 3. He is the third boy and fourth child. Mary Jane, Jody and Jonathan are at home.

WORLD'S LONGEST BRIDGE, the 24-mile Lake Pontchartrain Causeway north of New Orleans, is a spectacular example of new highway construction which could be used to help empty target cities ahead of attacking planes. Map shows how civil defense forces, frustrated in New Orleans by water obstacles to traffic on almost every side, could send thousands of cars straight across the huge lake barrier to the north. The bridge was opened to traffic in August 1956.

Between 1950 and 1956, a summary based on government figures discloses, annual compensation to employees in this country increased by $65 billion. Corporate profits before taxes, on the other hand, increased by $3.4 billion and, after taxes, actually decreased by about one-half billion.

A doctor writing in Your Health magazine says that accident-prone people fall into three general groups: Those who deliberately take tremendous risks in fits of anger; those who are insecure or dissatisfied; and those who react to emergencies by flying off in all directions emotionally.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IS THE LIFE OF ANY VILLAGE

Can you imagine what Antioch would be like without a newspaper?

No way of learning about important happenings; no place to publish your wants, your legal notices or advertising, your news about clubs, civic organizations, sports, and detailed information in general.

Weekly newspapers are the most important media of news dissemination for small communities. They are institutions without which communities lose their individuality.

Read the Antioch News—subscribe for it by the year and it will pay for itself many times over through information giving financial advantages let alone the entertainment of general news.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC!

Dear Sir:

The response to our letter of several weeks ago was tremendous. During the month of June we sold more new Fords than have ever been sold in the history of Antioch—in a one month period.

The results of this volume have enabled us to:

1. Cut our prices to the absolute bottom!
2. Give the very top trade in allowance!
3. Offer you a wide range of body styles and colors!

All this with no sacrifice in our quality service department!

We guarantee that no dealer can top the deal we can offer you. Go out and shop around—but before you buy, stop in and let us show you what we'll give you in trade for your old car. We know you'll be more than glad you stopped.

How about coming in today—we're open evenings till 9:00—let us make you an offer—you're in no way obligated, of course.

Sincerely,

W. Allen O. Lyons

Ford wins the battle of the builds

• Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field offers a frame design that lets you ride within the frame side members for greater roominess, more smoothness and increased safety.

2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.

3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride no matter how rough the road conditions.

4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch" on rough, bumpy roads.

5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof... greater quiet and safety.

6. Only Ford offers such a savingful car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.

7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all... enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.

8. Only Ford, among all makes, electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.

9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road and weather conditions.

10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust and weather wherever you travel.

11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance and exit.

High Attendance at Pre-Cana Conferences

"Either more people are getting married, or more people want to succeed at it," says Wally and Rosemark Dreves, of the Cana Conference of Chicago, in announcing a record attendance of more than 6,000 couples at Pre-Cana Conferences during 1956-57.

The Dreves made this report in announcing the summer schedule of 60 Conferences to be held in Catholic churches in Chicago and the suburbs, beginning Sunday, July 7.

"Apparently these Conferences are filling a need," say the Dreves, who are the 1956-57 chairman couple for the Pre-Cana organization. "More and more people have come to believe, as we do, that they require training for marriage just as they do for a profession—if they really expect to make a go of it."

A Pre-Cana Conference is a series of informal talks on marriage given by a priest, a doctor, and a young married couple. There are four sessions, usually in the evening.

A new feature at many of the Pre-Cana Conferences this summer will be a special Friday evening session—Parents' Nights—for the mothers and fathers of the engaged couples.

"The purpose of Parents' Nights," say the Dreves, "is to provide some tips for parents on how to add to their happiness—and their children's—in their new role as in-laws and grandparents."

Couples wishing to attend a Pre-Cana Conference may do so by calling Belmont 5-0406. The conferences are open to engaged couples of all faiths.

Auto Air-conditioning Demand on Upswing

DETROIT—The demand for all-weather automobile air conditioning has soared 500 per cent over last year according to L. F. Desmond, Dodge Vice President in charge of sales, who added that sales of the units no longer are a seasonal matter.

In previous years, sales were confined almost exclusively to spring and summer months, Desmond said.

Since new model introduction last November, he pointed out, orders for air conditioning in Dodge cars have been running at a steady pace of approximately eight hundred units per month.

Although comparatively new to the automobile accessory field, air conditioning has reached a high degree of development which has resulted in greater practicality, dependability and lower price, Desmond said.

To date, customers have ordered 6,600 air conditioning units on new Dodge cars, he said. Sales for the model year are expected to exceed 7,000. Production schedules are presently running at a peak output of 50 units per day.

This compares to a figure of 1,332 for the 1956 model year, 1,276 for 1955 and 419 for 1954, Desmond added.

As major factors in the upsurge of customer demand for air conditioning units, Desmond cited lower price, introduction of a new combined heater and air conditioner, universal adaptability of air conditioning to all model cars, including convertibles, and the ever increasing desire for more automobile luxuries.

Peeled Auto Plates Should Be Replaced

Springfield, Ill., July 1—Peeled auto license plate replacements picked up sharply last week, as another 1,150 motorists took advantage of the manufacturer's offer to provide new plates free of charge, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today.

Mr. Carpenter again urged car owners who have not yet obtained replacements for peeled plates to do so without delay so there can be no question of full compliance with the law.

All that is needed is a postcard or letter stating that the paint has peeled from the plate and listing the license number, Secretary Carpenter said.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

When Baby Screams

The new arrival in the house is just four weeks old — and he's screaming at the top of his lungs. His legs are drawn up in pain, his fists are clenched, and his skin has taken on an angry, flushed color.

What's the matter? The answer, all too often, is colic — an acute pain in the abdomen of the newborn child. Some babies, luckily, never seem to suffer from it at all.

Others may have only light cases. In severe instances, the attacks may take up as much as four hours of every day — to the mutual despair of infant, parents and neighbors.

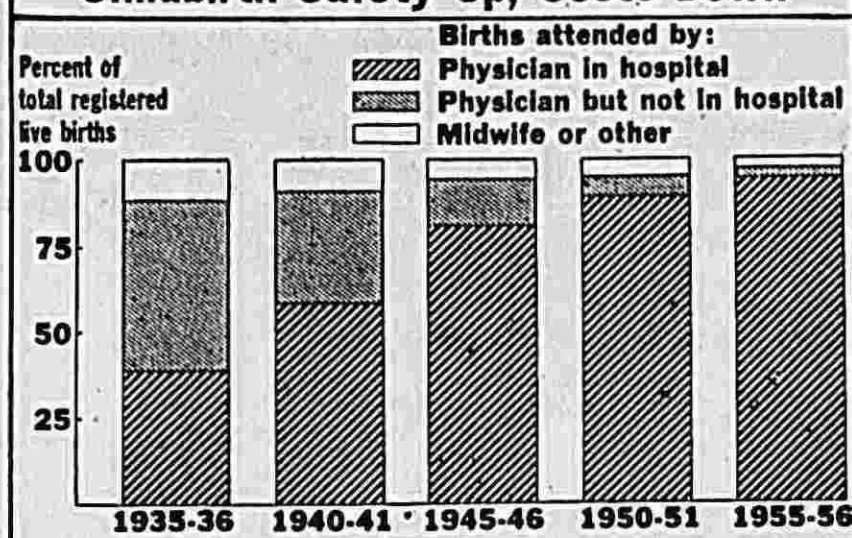

What's to be done? Well, you can be patient. Colic isn't fatal, and it usually goes away for good after the baby reaches four months.

That knowledge, however, is not much help right now, while the baby is actually fussing. Gentle, loving attention is helpful, so is music, and rocking or riding in the car. A warm hot-water bottle wrapped in a diaper can be applied to the baby's abdomen for a temporary respite.

If the attack persists, however, it's best to consult your family doctor or pediatrician. He may find it advisable to prescribe a new anti-colic preparation called Bonadonin Drops. In one recent study, reported by Dr. Robert T. Dougan of Richmond, Va., this preparation proved effective in 22 of 25 colicky infants — dramatically so in a number of instances. The drops are harmless to even the tiniest infant when given according to directions.

And in the meantime, have patience. It will all be over in a few months — until the next baby comes along!

Childbirth Safety Up, Costs Down

Source: Health Information Foundation

Having children these days is safer, less costly and far less frightening than ever before—thanks to an increase in knowledge and increased use of modern medical facilities.

According to Health Information Foundation, the odds are roughly 2,000 to one that a woman entering a modern hospital for delivery will survive. The U.S. maternal mortality rate is less than one-twelfth what it was in 1930.

The main reasons behind this dramatic improvement are great strides in medical science, particularly in new drugs and medications, and the increased advantage expectant mothers are taking of the medical and hospital care available to them. In 1935, 63 percent of all American babies were born in places other than hospitals, and 13 percent of all live births were not attended by physicians.

In spite of today's more complete, safer care, maternity costs are down. Health Information Foundation reports that average total medical costs for hospitalized maternity care have actually dropped 17 percent since 1930—from $258 to $213—when you allow for today's inflated dollars. Today's mother, in other words, is getting better care—and she's getting it at less cost to the family pocketbook.

Can You Answer "Yes" To All These Questions?

"Civic duties" is a phrase to which many people give little thought. Most of us are so concerned with our daily problems and self-support that we tend to dismiss community activities with a phrase—"I don't have the time."

But this is not true of one of the nation's essential industries—food distribution. Both independent and chain food retailers have long been known for the part they play in their communities. And the National Association of Food Chains has developed a program to encourage chain super market employees to participate in civic and charity work. Awards are given to member employees whose community efforts are outstanding. Super market managers annually fill out questionnaires including queries like those in the accompanying box. Then, they are scored and rated on their "good citizenship." This rating combined with an evaluation of his ability as a good manager makes him eligible to compete for local and national citizenship awards.

The program has been highly acclaimed by magazines like "Look," also by Freedom Foundation, the American Public Relations Association, members of Congress and Vice President Nixon. Newspapers all through the U. S. have praised it.

How many of these questions can you answer with a "yes"?

1. Have you or any member of your family done anything in the past year to help get out the vote?
2. Have you or any member of your family attended meetings of your local city council or school board?
3. Have you or any member of your family recently worked in local welfare campaigns—Red Cross, Community Chest or March of Dimes?
4. Are you or any member of your family a regular member of a Parent-Teachers Association?
5. Have you or any member of your family worked actively on community problems such as recreation facilities, traffic and parking problems, and health and sanitation regulations?

Anglers Never Had It So Good!

Here's a big one that didn't get away! Hooked in the waters of Saskatchewan, Canada, where all fishing dreams come true, this 39-pound Lake Trout captured a Saskatchewan Anglers' Derby award for sportsman Preston O. Starbuck of Onida, South Dakota.

Mr. Starbuck proudly shows off his catch while conservation officer Jim Clouthier (left) looks on, a little enviously perhaps.

This is just a sample of what is in store this year for anglers who choose Saskatchewan for their fishing adventures.

Not only are the Lake Trout big and bountiful, but there are waters teeming with scrappy Northern Pike, Walleye and the elusive king of sport fish—the Arctic Grayling.

Thousands of Saskatchewan lakes and rivers have been seldom, if ever fished before, as the area has only recently become accessible to the white man through an extensive highway program and development of northern air services.

The angling season opens in the middle of May in these cool northern waters, the fish stay close to the surface all summer long.

Write the Tourist Branch, Legislative Annex Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, for complete information on fishing camps in the northern area.

NORFOLK, VA. (FHTNC)—U. S. Naval Academy Midshipman second class Dennis W. Brezina, son of Mrs. Bessie W. Boyd of 258 Park ave., Antioch, mans the wheel of a landing craft at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va.

He was one of 850 Naval Academy juniors and 50 Royal Canadian Naval Cadets to undergo two weeks of amphibious training at Little Creek June 9-22.

The future Naval officers climaxed their training by participating in an actual amphibious assault landing at Camp Pendleton, Va., June 21.

In preparing for the landing, the midshipmen and cadets watched U. S. Marines make a landing and spent four days aboard ships of the Atlantic Amphibious Force.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Ol' Zeke's daughter had to write an essay of 250 words about a motor car. Here's what she submitted:

"My uncle bought a motor car. He was riding in the country, when it busted up a hill. I think this is about twenty words. The other two hundred and thirty are what my uncle said when he was walking back to town—but they are not fit for publication!"

Twenty-two thousand seedlings set out in one ten-hour day—by one tree-planting machine. That, sir, is a big day's work.

And that's exactly what Don Pritchett of Hubbard County, Minn., did. He did it with the help of a home-made, two-row tree planter and a four-man planting crew.

Don made the planter for his own use out of spare parts from old discarded farm equipment. He put only $80 worth of new materials into the machine.

Don writes that the two planting units are built entirely independent of each other, can be set four, six or eight feet apart or made into two single-row machines. An electric bell, powered from the tractor battery, can be set to ring at any distance, telling the planters when they should set a tree into the furrow for proper spacing.

Here's how the four men divide the work: one operates the tractor, two do the planting and a fourth sits between the planters, sorting trees and keeping a supply ready for each planter. A big pat on the back for Don, yes, sir!

Ol' Cypress asked me what he can do on his own to protect his woodlot from fire. Here's what I told him:

Keep your fire lanes well plowed. Keep your tractor and disc handy for fire fighting, along with rakes, drums or barrels of water, and gunny sacks.

And don't burn slash or fields unless conditions are right—and you have plenty of hands to help. If you don't already have a local fire department, see if you can't persuade your community to organize a voluntary group. After it is trained to fight fires, it can be of great help in cutting fire losses.

Gems of Thought

POLITENESS

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simple consists in treating others just as you love to be treated yourself.—Chesterfield.

Always behave as if nothing had happened no matter what has happened.—Arnold Bennett.

There are two kinds of politeness; one says, "See how polite I am"; the other, "I would make you happy."—Tomlinson.

Politeness is like an air-cushion—there may be nothing in it, but it eases our jolts wonderfully.

—Johnson.

Self-denial is practical, and is not only polite to all but it is pleasant to those who practice it.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Politeness has been well defined as benevolence in small things.—Macaulay.
